

JOHN OGDEN

John Ogden MSc., PhD., DSc., FRSNZ was formerly Associate Professor of Forest Ecology at the University of Auckland. His research areas include forest dynamics, and long-term change in climate and landscape. John has taught at Universities in Australia and the United States, and published over 100 scientific papers and popular articles on many ecological topics, including community issues in pest control and the ecology of endangered N.Z. birds. He is founder chairperson of the Great Barrier Island Charitable Trust, and involved with other conservation initiatives on the island and elsewhere in New Zealand. He is an indispensable source of experience and knowledge to all stakeholders involved in conservation on Aotea and lives at Awana with his wife Jenni.