

PETER EDMONDS

Peter has always had an interest in the environment and this was reinforced when he studied geography and biology at University in the 70's. He became a secondary teacher and taught at Okaihau College for 3 years from 1977-1980 before moving to Great Barrier Island to live the alternative lifestyle. Peter has spent the last 32 years as a working artist producing pieces in wood; bowls, furniture, and carving with a little building on the side. He is also a painter and cartoonist with exhibitions on Great Barrier Island and on the mainland. His cartoons depict things he sees happening in and to the environment and he has an uncanny ability to express the things we are sometimes too afraid to admit openly. Peter has been a Trustee of the GBI Trust since the beginning of 2011.
